EVENT DESCRIPTION

NESSBE (Northeast Summit for a Sustainable Built Environment) is a biennial northeast regional summit meant to include a larger community of building professionals, owners, academics, policymakers, advocates, and students in a conversation about sustainability in the built environment.

Frontline communities are now experiencing the greatest effects of Climate Change. These communities face both an increased energy cost burden and an associated increased health burden due to environmental pollution and housing conditions. The intention of this summit is to explore the means and solutions for meeting this challenge in the built environment, lifting up our most vulnerable communities, while improving the quality of life for all CT residents.

ABOUT CTGBC AND The Living Future Community

The Connecticut Green Building Council (CTGBC) is a 501(c)3 non-profit organization committed to accelerating the healthy, resilient, equitable, and sustainable transformation of Connecticut's built environment. Throughout the year, we hold a series of workshops on green building topics, networking opportunities, membership meetings, educational forums, seminars on green buildings. We advocate on behalf of policy, and partner with other organizations that align with our mission. Our annual Awards Event in the autumn celebrates individuals, companies and organizations that have achieved goals during the previous year.

The Living Future Community is a group of volunteer International Living Future Institute (ILFI) members working together to promote a Living Future in CT. CTGBC is a regional partner of ILFI and is an authorized provider of ILFI content in Connecticut.
